Summary Proposal
The Capital Facilities Advisory Committee (CFAC) unanimously voted to present a two-phase capital facilities bond proposal to Dr. Trevor Greene, Superintendent of the Yakima School District on April 12, 2023. The plan represents 10 years of priority facility replacement and maintenance, based on facility ages, current conditions, and on-going / anticipated repair efforts.

Culmination of Committee Work - October 2022 to April 2023
October 2022
The 2023-23 CFAC initially convened on October 5, 2022 and was composed of 33 members: 19 appointed members from Yakima community, education, and business partners, and four Yakima school district students; and 14 at-large community members with equal representation from those living East of 16th Avenue and West of 16th Avenue. The committee was convened at your request and given the charge to:

- Identify top-priority YSD school facility problems to be solved in Phase 1 of a multi-phase long-range facilities improvement plan
- Recommend Phase 1 Bond to Superintendent Dr. Greene

Supporting facilitation, coordination, and providing requested information was Dr. Rob Darling: Deputy Superintendent (co-facilitator), Jake Kuper: Executive Director of Finance (co-facilitator), Kirsten Fitterer: Chief Communications Officer, Jay Baucom: Director of Maintenance, and Gary Wetch: community member and architect.

The October CFAC meeting consisted of establishing quorum regulations and voting parameters. Gary Wetch from Loofburrow Wetch Architects provided the committee with information on the district’s 2022 Study and Survey process, architect principal reports and systems, and building conditions (Information and Conditions of Schools [ICOS]). Jake Kuper also provided information on the financial impact of school capital facility bonds. Each member was provided with a resource binder which included: maps of school sites, 2022 Study and Survey results, and student enrollment trends from 2015 to 2022.

November 2022
The committee analyzed input and feedback the district received from the Partners in Education committee, detailing community concerns pertaining to school campuses and buildings. The committee also discussed general safety concerns at schools, as well as athletic facilities at Davis High School.

Gary Wetch from Loofburrow Wetch Architects provided information about the 2022 Study and Survey results by building, showing how schools are ranked by BSC rating, and how the ratings and ages determined how much state match funding buildings qualify for. Based on those rankings, Dr. Darling and Mr. Kuper shared the district’s priorities, which included the four lowest rated schools, McKinley, Hoover, Garfield and Nob Hill Elementary; addressing the need for a girl’s softball/fastpitch facility at Davis High School, updating courtyard and sidewalks at Lewis and Clark Middle School, turf replacement at Zaepfel Stadium, gym floor replacement at Wilson
Middle School, and continual HVAC needs, roof replacements, asphalt and paving needs. The committee discussed doing site visits to some of these schools. It was requested that the committee be able to visit newly constructed elementary schools in neighboring districts to compare newer schools with Yakima schools built in the 1940’s and 1950’s.

December 2022
Committee members rode a Yakima SD bus to visit elementary schools. The first stop was two newly-built schools in a local district. CFAC was greeted by the school or district administrators and given a tour, were able to ask questions about the facilities, and see what learning spaces built in the 2020’s looked like.

The committee then took the bus to visit Hoover Elementary, built in the 1940’s. Principal Julio Sanchez showed classrooms, gym / cafeteria spaces, outdoor spaces, and the inside of two of Hoover’s twelve (12) portable classrooms. He shared the challenges they face with antiquated playground equipment, safety issues they face due to the school’s layout, as well as mechanical issues in constant need of repair. He also discussed how the hallway floors are original, and any repairs to the floor require abatement for asbestos.

The final stop on the tour was Garfield Elementary, built in 1965. Principal Steve Brownlow initiated the tour in a music portable. He asked the CFAC to consider the portable they were standing in and compare it to the two music classrooms they visited in the new schools earlier that evening. The new portables had lighting, sound equipment, curtains that could be moved to create a theater, and a collapsible wall that could be opened to have the music room double as a stage, opening into the gymnasium. Principal Brownlow expressed how districts with new facilities and expanded learning opportunities will not only be able to easily provide better engagement and growth for students, they will have an advantage when attracting and retaining quality staff.

January 2023
The January CFAC meeting began with Yakima School District Executive Director of Special Education, Nancy Smith. She presented to the committee her desire to upgrade existing playgrounds to provide access for every student, especially students with disabilities. She provided CFAC with a plan of making additions or modifications to existing play structures and terrain that are American Disability Act (ADA) compliant and would allow for all students to play on the equipment during recess. She asked the committee to consider adding funds to their facilities proposal to support the ADA upgrades.

Following Executive Director Smith, the committee reviewed the school tours from the previous month. The committee discussed the deteriorating conditions of both Garfield and Hoover and how all children should have a dignified space to learn in. Members also shared how exciting it would be for those neighborhoods to have new schools built in them as a sense of pride for those communities, as schools are often the main source of entertainment and recreation for families outside of the school day.
Next, Architect Gary Wetch and Jake Kuper presented the committee with estimated cost scenarios for the four elementary schools. Depending on the size of the school and the projected cost-per-square-foot estimates.

Lastly, the committee was asked to consider what the district’s facilities needs might be by 2033. The committee discussed the future needs and what schools would need upgrades or new buildings. Lewis & Clark and Wilson middle schools, Adams, Robertson, Barge-Lincoln elementary schools, and anything else built in the 1950’s was discussed. Also discussed was the possibility of combining some schools, potential need for land acquisition, a need for a continual facility improvements plan, and looking at future status of surrounding districts.

February 2023
Cory Plager, Manager Director at D.A Davidson & Co. presented and educated the CFAC about the overall school facility funding process and how bonds work. He provided an overview of educational programs, operations levy, capital levy, transportation levy and bonds.

March 2023 - Completion of the Committee’s Charge
After eight (8) months of researching, listening to construction and finance experts, learning, and visiting facilities, the Capital Facilities Advisory Committee voted to unanimously approved the following proposal, presented this day, April 12, 2023:

PHASE 2 CAPITAL FACILITIES PROJECTS PROPOSAL

When considering the current structural status, year built, significant renovations needed, and the 2022 Study and Survey Information and Conditions of Schools (ICOS) report, the CFAC identified the next five schools to be considered for significant modernization or total replacement:

- Modernize or Replace Adams Elementary (96,000 sq ft)
- Modernize or Replace Robertson Elementary (85,000 sq ft)
- Modernize or Replace Barge-Lincoln Elementary (85,000 sq ft)
- Modernize or Replace Lewis and Clark Middle School (130,000 sq ft)
- Modernize or Replace Wilson Middle School (130,000 sq ft)

In closing, we believe this committee has satisfied your charge for the 2022-23 CFAC. We identified top-priority YSD school facility issues to be resolved in a multi-phase long-range facilities improvement plan, and recommended Phase 1 Bond proposals.
